Plunk!

LUC CROMHEECKE & LAURENT LETZER

Plunk is a pink alien who, in one-page gag stories, discovers the world without saying much. His sense of amazement creates ample opportunities for successful jokes. The duo of Cromheecke an Letzer also enjoy exploring the medium of the comic: many of the gags are experiments with the conventions of the genre. The bright colours and Cromheecke's accessible drawing style make 'Plunk' a fun experience for readers of all ages.

Luc Cromheecke (b. 1961) enjoys working as a cartoonist with a number of different writers. He has drawn for series including 'Taco Zip', 'Tom Carbon', Plunk!, 'Roboboy' and 'The Godfrrsaken Island', all of which have appeared in the weeklies Robbedoes and Spirou. In 2015 Cromheecke was awarded the Bronzen Adhemar, the Flemish Culture Prize for Comics. Laurent Letzer (b. 1962) is a Belgian comics writer. Together with Luc Cromheecke, he forms a golden duo whose joint publications include Plunk! and 'Tom Carbon'. Photo © Carl van der Voort
